CELIS Senior Programme Associate / Senior Associate (Research)

(m/f/d)

(home office / full-time / long-term collaboration)

Together with the CELIS Institute, I am looking for a CELIS Senior Programme Associate / Senior Associate (m/f/d) to support my research and consulting activities in the areas of investment arbitration and German and European economic law, economic security, and investment screening.

You have at least

- a degree in law from an internationally leading university with clearly above-average grades
- two years of professional experience
- Excellent knowledge of European Union or public international law
- excellent command of English and outstanding organisational skills.

Advantages are

- Professional experience in an international law firm
- German language skills at the level of a native speaker
- Solid knowledge of German administrative law
- a track record in fundraising
- Experience in the organisation of academic or policy conferences.

In addition, you are characterised by accurate and thorough work, reliability, independence, discretion and flexibility, are interested in long-term cooperation and are resident in the EU/EFTA/Switzerland.

We offer:

- the opportunity to position yourself in forward-looking areas (investor-state arbitration law, German and European economic law, in particular investment control), which are also highly relevant for legal and political practice
- the opportunity to network within the CELIS Institute and a dynamic international team
- Flexible working hours from your current place of residence
- a responsible, leading role in the organisation of international conferences and in proceedings in the field of investor-state arbitration and investment control early in your career
- A competitive starting salary, followed by above-average remuneration depending on your responsibility and success in the respective project.

The position is to be filled immediately. Please send your CV, salary expectations and any other documents supporting your application by e-mail to the address below. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.
